

25 New Condo Buildings with Swimming Pools in New York City

Between the stress of the midterm elections and the days getting darker and colder (Sunday, November 6 marked the end of Daylight Saving Time), making an escape to the tropics sounds awfully appealing. Open international borders make this a distinct possibility, but a getaway may not be in the cards for those who have just made a down payment on a New York City condo - not only is this often just the beginning of a long process, but CityRealty data shows that the median price of a Manhattan condo is $2,502,662.

For residents of certain buildings, a relaxing waterside oasis is just an elevator ride away with indoor pools to be enjoyed all year round. We take a look in new development condos where the same attitude of architectural inspiration and luxurious finishes applies to the facades and interiors as well as the pools.

As DUMBO's tallest residential building, Olympia makes a dramatic impression on both the local skyline and real estate scene. While a Brooklyn Bridge-facing terrace has an outdoor pool and hot tub (not to mention New York's highest outdoor tennis court), an indoor pool, dry sauna, and steam room are open for residents to enjoy all year long. From the Listing: Residence 22D is a three bedroom, two-and-a-half bathroom residence spanning 1,901 square feet of luxurious space. The entrance foyer leads directly into the open living space with floor-to-ceiling south-facing windows. Ideally located for entertaining, the Workstead-designed kitchen features an island with inlaid Fior di Bosco stone slab and chamfered edges, raked maple cabinetry paired with satin nickel hardware and Gaggenau appliances. The cozy den/third bedroom contains the discretely located LG washer and dryer and is accessible from the dining/living and kitchen areas, providing the ideal flexible space for a tranquil respite or additional entertainment.
