New Dumbo Condo Will Change the Brooklyn Skyline

A new luxury condominium coming to Dumbo, the small and picturesque Brooklyn neighborhood sandwiched between the Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges, will be a dramatic new addition to the borough's skyline. The 33-story Olympia, designed by Hill West with interiors by Workstead, will bring 76 one- to five-bedroom residences (priced from $1.65 million) to the desirable neighborhood. The building will feature 38,000 square feet of interior and exterior amenities, plus large private terraces and unobstructed views of the Manhattan skyline. Sales will begin later this year.
