

New Residential Developments with The Best Views of The City

New York City is never short on breath-taking views, but what if you could see those views from the windows of your bed or living room? Below please find a selection of the best new residential developments with views that are second to none that New Yorkers are lucky enough, or will soon to be lucky enough, to enjoy from their own home.

Olympia Dumbo

Olympia Dumbo is the tallest residential development building in the Dumbo neighborhood and brings the sunset skyline all the way home. The shifts and curves in Hill West's tower geometry make for unique views at every level, with wraparound views from living rooms and great rooms and full-width terraces facing the waterfront and the best views DUMBO has to offer. The 33-story condominium tower features sail-like architecture by Hill West and has 76 residences, ranging from one to five bedrooms with private terraces, plus penthouses. The project has 38,000 square feet of amenities spread over three floors, including an indoor and outdoor swimming pool, an outdoor tennis court, gym, sauna and steam room, spin studio, and more.
